ABOUT ME

Hi, I'm Paul!

I'm a young man studying to be a sea captain, but in my off-time I enjoy teaching martial arts and fitness, and believe I can use these skills to help people with disabilities gain independence in their daily lives!

I have a fun and enthusiastic personality and am able to motivate people to better themselves and make the most of their situations and special circumstances.

EXPERIENCE

I've just finished high school in 2022, during which time I had work experience helping patients with spina bifida. Here I was tasked with helping children aged 16 and under complete their daily activities. Combined with my fitness experience, I have the skills necessary to help NDIS Participants start living their best lives!
